

Thursday Oct 15, 2009

Larry Grisolano to head new D.C. office of Axs alma mater -- Pence in '12? -- Mason-Dixon: Reid down 10 points to challenger -- A. Dunn gets Style section profile, w/ Pfeiffer props -- Goatee gamble

Presented by GlaxoSmithKline

By: MIKE ALLEN

Oct 15, 2009 07:51 AM EST

HAPPENING TOMORROW -- Fifty years ago tomorrow, George Catlett Marshall - General of the Army, Secretary of State (creator of the Marshall Plan), Secretary of Defense and public servant exemplar - died at Walter Reed. To honor his memory and celebrate his legacy the Marshall Foundation of Lexington, Va., will sponsor a luncheon at the State Department (eighth floor diplomatic rooms). Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton, Secretary of Defense Robert M. Gates, and Army Chief of Staff General George W. Casey Jr. will speak. Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Admiral Michael Mullen and will attend. Gates will receive the Marshall Award for exemplary service to our nation. Marshall family members will attend. A wreath laying ceremony at Arlington precedes the lunch. Rhetorical question: Who are the Marshalls of today?

--

Go to Playbook Now >>

View this as a web page

© 2009 Capitol News Company, LLC
POLITICO Playbook. To unsubscribe, do so here.