IDENTITY STATEMENT

Reference code: GCMRF 302

Title: George Catlett Marshall and Katherine Tupper Marshall Collection

Date(s): 1900-1978 (bulk 1903-1959)

Level of description: Collection

Extent: 49.50 linear ft. (47 manuscript boxes; 7 scrapbook boxes, 13 oversize boxes) and 8 oversize folders

CONTEXT

Name of creator(s): Marshall, George C. (George Catlett) and Marshall, Katherine Tupper

Biographical history: George Catlett Marshall was born on December 31, 1880, in Uniontown, Pennsylvania. He graduated from the Virginia Military Institute in 1901 and received a commission in the United States Army in 1902. Throughout George C. Marshall's 50 years of public service he was Chief of Staff of the United States Army during World War II, President Harry S. Truman's special envoy to China to negotiate peace between Chinese communists and nationalists, Secretary of State, President of the American Red Cross, and Secretary of Defense. He received the 1953 Nobel Peace Prize for the Marshall Plan which provided money and resources to aid European nations in rebuilding after World War II. George C. Marshall died on October 16, 1959, in Washington, DC.

Katherine Tupper Marshall was born on October 8, 1882, in Harrodsburg, Kentucky. She graduated from Hollins College in 1902. After graduating from the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in 1904 Katherine T. Marshall performed as an actress in Shakespearean theater in Europe and the United States. She married George C. Marshall on October 16, 1930 and later authored a book about their experiences entitled Together: Annals of An Army Wife. Katherine T. Marshall died on December 18, 1978, in Leesburg, Virginia.

Archival history: This collection was loaned to the George C. Marshall Research Foundation by James J. Winn, Jr., who is the grandson of Katherine Tupper Marshall, on September 23, 2010, for arrangement and description. The collection had initially been stored in the basement of the Marshalls' residence in Leesburg, Virginia, and was given to Mr. Winn when the residence was sold. The collection was stored in boxes and footlockers located in Mr. Winn's basement and with the exception of several series of correspondence files, the collection did not appear to have its original order maintained. In May 2011 Mr. Winn delivered additional materials to the foundation for inclusion in the collection. These additional materials occupied several boxes and did not appear to be in original order. During the summer of 2011 a research library intern, under the supervision of the foundation archivist, sorted the collection into chronological series reflecting the progression of the positions that George C. Marshall held and created a preliminary inventory of the collection. In the spring and summer of 2012 the foundation archivist arranged the items of each series chronologically and prepared the finding aid for the collection.

Immediate source of acquisition: Gift of Mr. James J. Winn, Jr. on December 22, 2012

CONTENT AND STRUCTURE

Scope and content: The collection consists of three distinct series of records: the George Catlett Marshall Collection, the Marshall Correspondence Collection, and the Katherine T. Marshall Collection. The George Catlett Marshall Collection consists of records that he acquired throughout his lifetime of public service. Included in the collection are documents from his first assignment after being commissioned in the United States Army through the period he served as Chief of Staff during World War II. The collection also contains documents from the positions that George C. Marshall held after his retirement from the United States Army including President Truman's special envoy to China, Secretary of State, President of the American Red Cross, and Secretary of Defense, as well as documents from Marshall's retirement years. The types of documents that appear in the subseries of this collection include correspondence, official documents, textual records, bound volumes, subject files, photographs and newspaper clippings. Maps and oversized items from this collection are stored separately.

The Marshall Correspondence Collection consists of correspondence files maintained by George Catlett Marshall from 1938 to 1959. The correspondence found within this collection ranges from autograph requests and birthday greetings to personal correspondence with family and friends, and also includes several files of routine household records.

The Katherine Tupper Marshall Collection consists of records that she acquired throughout her lifetime, particularly from the period of George Catlett Marshall's service as Chief of Staff of the United States Army during World War II through his death. The types of records found in the collection include correspondence, textual records, bound volumes, photographs, and newspaper clippings. The records relating to Katherine Tupper Marshall's writing and publication of Together: Annals of An Army Wife as well as tributes to George C. Marshall after his death were of sufficient quantity to be included as two distinct subseries within the collection. The types of records found in these subseries include correspondence, textual records, photographs, and newspaper clippings. Oversized items from this collection are stored separately.

Additional descriptions concerning the scope and content of the subseries of the George Catlett Marshall Collection, the Marshall Correspondence Collection, and the Katherine T. Marshall Collection are available in Appendix A of this document.

Accruals: It is understood that additional papers of George Catlett Marshall and Katherine Tupper Marshall are still in the possession of James J. Winn, Jr. and may be transferred to the George C. Marshall Research Foundation in the future.

System of arrangement: The George Catlett Marshall and Katherine Tupper Marshall Collection have been arranged into 3 series: the George Catlett Marshall Collection, the Marshall Correspondence Collection, and the Katherine T. Marshall Collection. The George Catlett

Marshall Collection has been arranged chronologically into 17 subseries corresponding to the various positions that Marshall held throughout his lifetime. Within each subseries the records have been organized into additional subseries according to record type. Large correspondence subseries have been arranged alphabetically by the correspondent's last name. The subseries for all other record types have been arranged chronologically. The divisions at the folder level reflect the filing arrangements of the original collection.

The Marshall Correspondence Collection reflects the original order of the correspondence files maintained by George Catlett Marshall. The correspondence files were divided into 4 subseries by type. The autograph requests files have been grouped into the first half and last half of the alphabet and then arranged in reverse chronological order according to the years that the requests were sent. Within these files the correspondence has been arranged alphabetically by the correspondent's last name. The birthday greetings files have then been arranged in reverse chronological order according to the years in which they were sent and within each file the correspondence has been arranged alphabetically by correspondent's last name. The personal correspondence is arranged alphabetically by the correspondent's last name and within each file the correspondence is arranged in reverse chronological order. The household files are also arranged in reverse chronological order.

The Katherine Tupper Marshall collection consists of 7 subseries, which includes 5 subseries according to record type as well as the Together and Marshall Tributes subseries. The correspondence subseries is arranged alphabetically by the correspondent's last name. The remaining subseries are arranged chronologically.

Oversized materials from the George Catlett Marshall Collection and the Katherine T. Marshall Collection have been organized into 11 subseries according to record type. Within each subseries the records are chronologically arranged in additional subseries corresponding to the various positions that Marshall held throughout his lifetime. Within these subseries the individual items are also arranged chronologically.

CONDITIONS OF ACCESS AND USE

Conditions governing access: The collection is open for research without restrictions.

Conditions governing reproduction: Copyright is held by Mr. Jmaes J. Winn, Jr. No other person or entity shall be permitted to reproduce, publish, or distribute any part of the collection without Mr. James J. Winn's express written permission.

APPENDIX A

SCOPE AND CONTENT OF COLLECTION SUBSERIES

The George Catlett Marshall and Katherine Tupper Marshall Collection consists of three distinct series of records: the George Catlett Marshall Collection; the Marshall Correspondence Collection and the Katherine Tupper Marshall Collection.

GEORGE C. MARSHALL COLLECTION (16 linear feet)

The George Catlett Marshall Collection is divided into seventeen primary subseries. The first two primary subseries relate to Marshall's childhood and his attendance at the Virginia Military Institute. The next fourteen primary subseries correspond to Marshall's various army assignments and appointed offices. The seventeenth primary subseries contains papers accumulated during his retirement. The primary subseries are:

- I. CHILDHOOD, 1884
- II. VIRGINIA MILITARY INSTITUTE, 1900-1901
- III. PRE WORLD WAR I, 1902-1916
- IV. WORLD WAR I, 1917-1919
- V. AIDE DE CAMP TO GENERAL PERSHING, 1919-1924
- VI. CHINA (TIENTSIN), 1924-1927
- VII. FORT BENNING, 1928-1932
- VIII. FORT SCREVEN, 1932-1933
- IX. FORT MOULTRIE, 1933
- X. ILLINOIS NATIONAL GUARD, 1933-1936
- XI. VANCOUVER BARRACKS, 1936-1938
- XII. CHIEF OF STAFF, 1938*-1945
- XIII. CHINA MISSION, 1945-1947
- XIV. SECRETARY OF STATE, 1947-1949
- XV. RED CROSS, 1949-1950
- XVI. SECRETARY OF DEFENSE, 1950-1951
- XVII. SECOND RETIREMENT, 1951-1959

Each subseries has then been organized into secondary subseries according to record type in the following order (as appropriate): Correspondence; Official Documents; Personal Papers; Subject Files; Bound Volumes; Photographs; Newspaper Clippings. Maps and other Oversize Items are stored separately. Within each secondary subseries the records have been arranged in chronological order. The divisions at the folder level reflect the filing arrangements of the original collection.

I-II. CHILDHOOD, VIRGINIA MILITARY INSTITUTE

The first two primary subseries each consist of one folder of photographs. The Childhood subseries includes a group photograph of the Marshall family taken July 4, 1884, as well as photographs of Marshall's parents George Catlett Marshall, Sr., and Laura Bradford Marshall, and a photograph of one of Marshall's grandfathers. The Virginia Military Institute subseries includes a photograph taken at the Final Ball in 1900 when Marshall was cadet captain.

III. PRE WORLD WAR I

The Pre World War I subseries (1902-1916) totals 2 linear feet and corresponds chiefly to Marshall's assignments at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, the Massachusetts National Guard, and the Philippines. The papers include, in the official documents series, a report complete with Marshall's recommendations, together with photographs, relating to Marshall's 1914 fact finding visit to the Manchurian battlefields of the 1904-1905 Russo-Japanese War.

IV. WORLD WAR I

The fourth subseries comprises 1.5 linear feet of records corresponding to Marshall's duty with the Allied Expeditionary Force (AEF) in France (1917-1919). In separate storage are a collection of maps which accompany, in the official documents series, Marshall's reports as assistant chief of staff for both the First Division and the First Army. These reports primarily relate to the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives. Also within the official documents is a "graphical account of the end of the war" a monitor of the sound of artillery falling silent at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918.

Within Marshall's personal papers are diaries of a sequence visits to England, the battlefields of France, and Italy, on which he accompanied General John J. Pershing during 1919. In these documents, Marshall records meeting Winston Churchill and Field Marshal Haig, among others. Finally, there are extensive photograph collections including views of Marshall's office, his wartime billet at Gondrecourt, France, and victory ceremonies in honor of Pershing as he prepared to leave France in 1919.

V-VI. AIDE DE CAMP, CHINA (TIENSIN)

The fifth and sixth subseries comprise 0.5 linear feet. The papers relating to Marshall's tenure as Pershing's Aide de Camp (1919-1924) include official documents concerning appropriate weaponry, policies on promotion in, and development of, the national army. Also in the collection, are memoranda Marshall wrote advising Pershing on the format of his final report as Chief of Staff. Whilst in China (1924-1927), Marshall continued to correspond with Pershing as the latter began the composition of his memoirs. There are numerous photographs of Marshall at work and relaxing in China.

VII. FORT BENNING

The seventh subseries comprises 1.5 linear feet and corresponds to Marshall's tenure as Assistant Commandant at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, GA, (1927-1932). The bulk of this subseries is composed of Marshall's correspondence, arranged alphabetically by sender, containing both incoming and outgoing letters from his office. Within the correspondence is the exchange of letters with Major General Stephen O. Fuqua over Pershing's written account of Marshall's pivotal role in the movement of troops in connection with the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives. Other records in this subseries detail mobilization by railroad, developments in German military thought, and issues of promotion.

VIII-XI. FORT SCREVEN, FORT MOULTRIE, ILLINOIS NATIONAL GUARD, VANCOUVER BARRACKS.

The eighth to eleventh subseries comprise 0.5 linear feet of records and relate to Marshall's appointments between 1933 and 1938. Of particular interest is the subject file during Marshall's time commanding Fort Screven (1932-1933), when Marshall served on the advisory committee of the Civilian Military Education Fund. Papers here shed light on the relationship between the civilian and military realms. At the same time, in the official documents Marshall was also considering the issue of if, when, and how to deploy troops in the event of domestic disturbances. There are numerous photographs of military parades and maneuvers which took place during these years.

XII. CHIEF OF STAFF

Although focused on Marshall's service as Chief of Staff (1939-1945), there is also material relating to his tenures as Assistant Chief of Staff, War Plans Division, deputy and acting Chief of Staff before September 1939. This subseries comprises 4.90 linear feet.

1. Correspondence – consists of 0.15 linear feet of records covering January 1941 to November 1945 and grouped chronologically, as stored in the original collection. A detailed list arranged by sender appears in the folder list. Although many prominent names appear, little official business is discussed.
2. Official Documents – consists of 0.5 linear feet covering the years 1941-1945 and are mainly memoranda on public and congressional reactions to Marshall's biennial reports as well as, increasingly, anticipated post war developments in the military.
3. Personal Papers – consists of 0.75 linear feet and contains invitations, passes, and related materials for the various international conferences Marshall attended as well as less important functions.
4. Bound Volumes – consists of 0.5 linear feet and contains a series of biographies of Brazilian military leaders, written in Portuguese, that Marshall received during his visit to Brazil shortly after becoming Chief of Staff.
5. Photographs – consisting of 1.25 linear feet of photographs this subseries includes photographs from Marshall's inspection trips both at home and abroad as well as of every conference from the Atlantic Charter to Potsdam. Interleaved with the official photographs are those of a more personal nature, such as of Allen

Brown's grave and of Marshall relaxing. A complete directory is included in the folder list grouped, where possible, by event.

6. Newspaper Clippings – consists of 0.75 linear feet and covers major events, which are grouped by subject from his appointment to retirement. Topics include calls for Marshall to run for President, his relations with congress, his alleged appointment as Supreme Allied Commander , and debates on post-war demobilization.
7. Scrapbooks - 4 scrapbooks (1.0 linear feet) were prepared by Katherine Tupper Marshall covering the years from 1938 to 1942. The scrapbooks include clippings and correspondence documenting Marshall's service as Chief of Staff, as well as note key personal and family events of the Marshalls.

XIII, XIV. CHINA MISSION, SECRETARY OF STATE

These two subseries comprise 2.75 linear feet, the majority of which relates to Marshall's tenure as Secretary of State (1947-1949). The papers relating to Marshall's mission to China (1945-1947) mainly consist of copies of cables sent by George Catlett Marshall to Katherine Tupper Marshall on his first visit to China between December 1945 and March 1946.

The Secretary of State papers contain a small amount of correspondence. The official documents include records relating to press reaction to the European Recovery Plan, Marshall testifying before Congress, his visit to the United Nations General Assembly in Paris, and the London and Moscow conferences. There is also a subject file on the Moscow Conference. The photographs of this period are of these significant meetings that punctuated Marshall's tenure as Secretary of State. The extensive newspaper clippings cover the London and Moscow conferences, a number of Marshall's speeches, and the issues of universal military training, funding for the armed forces, and reactions to developments in Europe and China.

XV, XVI. RED CROSS, SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

Together, these two subseries constitute 1.0 linear feet, with slightly more records relating to Marshall's tenure as Secretary of Defense (1950-1951). The majority of records in both subseries consist of photographs and newspaper clippings. The official documents from Marshall's presidency of the American Red Cross (1949-1950) contain records relating to the American Battle Monuments Commission, as well as the original of Marshall's 1950 Memorial Day speech at Arlington National Cemetery.

XVII. RETIREMENT

The final subseries of the George Catlett Marshall Collection includes 1.75 linear feet of records from Marshall's retirement years. The correspondence includes both letters of congratulations and criticism after Marshall was announced as the winner of the Nobel Peace Prize for 1953. The personal papers subseries includes a large file of documents related to the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II which Marshall attended as part of the United States delegation, as well as a press release of the remarks Marshall delivered after receiving the Nobel Peace Prize. Photographs and newspaper clippings complete the subseries along with a scrapbook of newspaper clippings on the occasion of George C. Marshall's 75th birthday.

MARSHALLS CORRESPONDENCE COLLECTION (4.0 linear feet)

The Marshalls Correspondence Collection is divided into four subseries, which reflect the filing arrangements of the existing collection. These are as follows:

- I. AUTOGRAPH REQUESTS
- II. BIRTHDAY GREETINGS
- III. PERSONAL CORRESPONDENCE
- IV. HOUSEHOLD FILES

I, II. AUTOGRAPH REQUESTS, BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

These two subseries consist of 1.0 linear feet of correspondence (0.5 linear feet for each subseries). Telegrams from noteworthy individuals are interspersed with wishes from the general public for Marshall's 'significant' 70th and 75th birthdays. A total of 231 cards and telegrams have been preserved. The 488 requests for autographs provide the best indicator of Marshall's interaction with the public and extent of his celebrity. Marshall's office had a policy that signed photographs would only be sent to people he knew, but this did not prevent the public from continually and repeatedly importuning him with requests. Both subseries were stored in folders that grouped them approximately alphabetically and then chronologically. This order has been retained in the collection, and a full index of all autograph seekers and birthday-wishers is detailed in the appendix.

III. PERSONAL CORRESPONDENCE

This subseries comprises 1.75 linear feet, covers the period from 1938 to 1949, and includes both incoming and copies of outgoing correspondence arranged alphabetically. This correspondence covers non-official matters, but, of particular interest, are examples of where the professional and personal come into conflict. In his wartime correspondence with his stepsons, Allen and Clifton Brown, Marshall's wish for their connection with himself to remain a secret is evident. Yet, at the same time, he is willing to assist them in a covert manner. Similarly, friends seek assistance for sons in the army, or request that Marshall obtain information if their sons are missing in action. The correspondence also reveals the anger Marshall feels when he feels his friendship is abused, such as being invited to meet new 'friends' at shoots only to find out they are, in reality, patronage seekers.

IV. HOUSEHOLD FILES

The Household Files include 1.25 linear feet of records. These folders relate to the running of the Marshalls' residences (Dodona Manor, in Leesburg, Virginia, and Liscomb Lodge in Pinehurst, North Carolina) and other accommodation matters that concerned the Marshalls from their moving East in 1938 to George C. Marshall's death in 1959. The topics and order reflect the original filing system of the collection. The papers include proofs for correction and correspondence relating to Katherine Tupper Marshall's memoirs Together and some of her personal correspondence. The personal correspondence found in these files is primarily from the time when Katherine Tupper Marshall was in China in 1946 and again during Clifton Brown's terminal illness in 1952, when her correspondence was handled by George C. Marshall's staff.

KATHERINE TUPPER MARSHALL COLLECTION (5.0 linear feet)

The Katherine Tupper Marshall Collection consists of seven primary subseries. The first five primary subseries have been organized according to record type, while the final two primary subseries include records grouped according to subject. The primary subseries are as follows:

- I. CORRESPONDENCE
- II. PERSONAL PAPERS
- III. BOUND VOLUMES
- IV. PHOTOGRAPHS
- V. CLIPPINGS
- VI. *TOGETHER
- VII. MARSHALL TRIBUTES

The records appearing in five of the primary subseries, the correspondence and the Together subseries being the exceptions, have been arranged in chronological order. The correspondence subseries has been arranged alphabetically by the last name of the sender. The Together subseries includes five secondary subseries that have been organized according to record type. Within these secondary subseries the records have been arranged in chronological order. The divisions at the folder level reflect the filing arrangements of the original collection.

I. CORRESPONDENCE

The correspondence subseries include 0.75 linear feet of records which have been arranged alphabetically according to the last name of the sender. Included in the files are a significant number of letters from Katherine Tupper Marshall's two sons Allen and Clifton Brown, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, Frank McCarthy, and of course George C. Marshall. Letters from George C. Marshall's colleagues including Omar N. Bradley, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Harry S. Truman also appear in the files.

II. PERSONAL PAPERS

This second primary subseries contains 0.75 linear feet of records. Katherine Tupper Marshall's appointment books from the years 1937 to 1947 as well as the remarks she delivered at various events provide insights into her experiences as the wife of a top government official. The remaining items in this subseries consist of administrative records and memorabilia relating to a variety of subjects.

III. BOUND VOLUMES

The bound volumes subseries makes up 0.25 linear feet of the collection. The volume published in 1841 was originally owned by Katherine Tupper Marshall's grandfather Henry A. Tupper and the volume in 1841 and 1859 was also owned by a family member and includes information about one of Katherine Tupper Marshall's relatives. The remaining volumes are directories and a history of Loudon County, Virginia, during the Civil War.

IV. PHOTOGRAPHS

This subseries consists of 0.30 linear feet of photographs, which include portraits of Katherine T. Marshall, photographs of her with George C. Marshall and other family members, and events that she attended.

V. NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS

The newspaper clippings subseries includes 0.30 linear feet of documents and include articles about Katherine T. Marshall as well as family members. A significant number of articles document Katherine T. Marshall's activities during World War II. The naming of Katherine T. Marshall as the best dressed figure in public life for 1947 is also well documented, with articles filling two file folders.

VI. TOGETHER

The Together subseries contains all of the records relating to the writing, publication, publicity, and reception of Katherine T. Marshall's book. This subseries consists of five secondary subseries which are organized according to record type. The subseries comprises 1.40 linear feet.

1. Correspondence – the majority of the correspondence is with the publisher of Together and Katherine T. Marshall's literary agent and includes information about contracts, publication, royalties, and other administrative matters. Letters of congratulations on the publication of Together also make up one folder of this subseries.
2. Personal Papers – a portion of the manuscript of Together written in long hand by Katherine Tupper Marshall appears in this subseries along with promotional items and the script for a radio program discussing the book.
3. Photographs – included in this subseries are the illustrations for the People's Book Club edition of Together, photographs that Katherine Marshall considered for inclusion in the book, and photographs from a press tour and reception.
4. Newspaper Clippings – the newspaper clippings consist of articles and book reviews of Together. A series of clippings traces the position of Together on the best seller list for the New York Herald Tribune and New York Times and multi part articles in Collier's and Look include lengthy excerpts from the book.

5. Scrapbook – the scrapbook contains newspaper articles about Together from its release in November 1946 through January 1947.

VII. MARSHALL TRIBUTES

The final subseries comprises 1.25 linear feet of correspondence, photographs, commemorative programs, and other records relating to ceremonies and dedications honoring George C. Marshall after his death. The tributes, which are from both the United States and Europe, include minutes and resolutions passed by organizations as well as the dedication of buildings and monuments honoring George C. Marshall. The dedication of the Marshall Memorial in Frankfurt, Germany contains a large number of records documenting the event. Other notable dedication ceremonies include President Dwight D. Eisenhower's executive order designating the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Alabama, the launching of the USS George C. Marshall submarine, and the dedication of the George C. Marshall corridor in the Pentagon.
