

HARRY B. PRICE PAPERS

Introduction

The Harry B. Price Papers consist of correspondences, transcribed interviews, memorandums, drafts, pamphlets, charts, press releases and a typed copy of the Price Manuscript. The bulk of the material is in the form of correspondences and interviews dealing with various aspects of the Marshall Plan and specifically, the role of the Economic Cooperation Administration in this program. Additionally, the correspondences deals with comments and criticisms of the Price rough draft and seek to correct and broaden the scope of Price's work. Using the interviews notes, and helpful comments found within this collection, Price published his work entitled The Marshall Plan and its Meaning in 1955. A final typed draft of this work can be found at the end of the collection. The collection was donated by Mr. Harry B. Price, now residing in New York, New York, in 1967.

The materials are divided into three groups: correspondence between Harry Price and individuals connected with the Marshall Plan; transcribed interviews both in the U.S. and abroad with persons directly associated with the Marshall Plan; and finally various materials of a general nature relating to the subject such as a semi-final draft, a chronology of the manuscript. The material is divided into five boxes. Boxes one and two contain correspondences, memorandums and press release from 1951 to 1955. Box three contain interviews with persons here in the U.S. and box four contains interviews with those abroad. Finally, box five contains the typed draft and various other articles relating to the Price work; The Marshall Plan and its Meaning.

There are no restrictions in the use of the collection.

HARRY B. PRICE PAPERS

Scope and Content Note

The Harry B. Price Papers are grouped into three series. The collection includes correspondences, memorandums, press releases and reports, by and with people who were directly connected with the Marshall Plan and its implementation. In conjunction with the writing of a book by Price entitled The Marshall Plan and its Meaning, correspondences, interviews, memos, press releases and reports span the years 1951-1955. The interviews were conducted between 1952 and 1954. Finally, the collection contains a typed draft of Price's manuscript, charts, records and other printed material related to the book.

The entire collection was donated by Harry B. Price of New York, New York in 1967.

The portion of the collection containing correspondence are found in boxes 1 and 2. A majority of these correspondences deal with comments, criticisms and notes concerning the rough draft of the Price manuscript. Of special interest are the correspondences with Dean Acheson, Erik Brofoss, Harlan Cleveland, Thomas Ford, Gordon Lincoln, Brice Mace, George C. Marshall, Robert Mullen, Peter Odegard, and Henry Tasca. Additionally, the Manlid DeAngelis correspondence contains an excellent bibliography on the E.C.A.

The second portion of the collection concerns interviews conducted by Harry Price and in some cases Kurt Glaser, Jeane Jordon and Roy Foulke. Box 3 contains interviews conducted within the U.S. and is arranged chronologically. Box 4 contains interviews conducted in Europe and is arranged by country. Both box 3 and 4 contain an index within the box. This index is the original drawn up by Price and is complete. Of special interest in the interviews portion are those with Harlan Cleveland, Richard Bissell, Averell Harriman, Sam Van Hyning, Allen Boyd, Wayne Taylor, Dean Acheson and George C. Marshall. In a majority of cases, those people interviewed also carried on a correspondence with Price. Both the correspondence and the interview can be found in this collection.

Finally, box 5 contains the Price typed manuscript entitled, ECA and the Marshall Plan; A History and Evolution, a chronology of the E.C.A. project, a list of material recieved from abroad by Price, a semi-final draft entitled, Midway in the European Recovery Program, a phamphlet entitled "Belgium and the OECE", a publication dealing with the economic aspects of North Atlantic security, various telephone directories and charts relating to economics that were used by Price.

The papers are arranged in their original order. In 5 boxes. Boxes 1 and 2 contain correspondences and are arranged alphabetically. Box 3 contains interviews conducted in the U.S. and is also arranged alphabetically. Box 4 contains interviews conducted in Europe and is arranged by country and type of person (national or U.S. Personnel) Box 5 is in the original order of the donor which places the typed manuscript first with all e#se following. There have been no removals from this collection

There are no restrictions in the use of the collection.
