The Japanese people have but little time in which to avoid the destruction which is at hand. If they cease hostilities now they can look forward to Peace and the treatment set forth in the warning. If they continue the senseless conflict they will not be able to avoid annihilation by the new weapon as well as all the elements of overwhelming force which are now being brought to bear.

The United States of America and the United Kingdom intend to use the new weapon to help in bringing about and maintaining peace in the world. The first step is the return of the Japanese people to peaceful pursuits, free from the domination of their War Lords who have brought them to their present tragic position.

Let the people of Japan make their choice before it is too late.
