

IN REPLY REFER TO:

THE INFANTRY SCHOOL
OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT COMMANDANT

GCM-REK
FORT BENNING, GEORGIA

June 17, 1930.

Colonel John Chambers,
Culver Military Academy,
Culver, Indiana.

My dear Chambers:

I greatly appreciate your courtesy and thoughtfulness in sending me a copy of that remarkable volume on Culver's men in the World War. It is a very impressive book and I can realize the immense amount of research involved in its production.

Your personal inscription is also appreciated. I have waited to thank you until I had time to go through the text, which I completed last evening. The World War is rapidly becoming a remote affair, not only to the public at large, but even to the personnel of the army. I did not appreciate how vague a matter it was to many until some one recently pointed out an officer in this command, doing queer things in a field maneuver, who was but nine years old when we were struggling with the problems of the A.E.F.

Thank you again for remembering me in this fashion.

Faithfully yours,
