

PERSHING BEST MAN AT MARRIAGE HERE

General Attends Luncheon Preceding Wedding Of Mrs. Brown And Colonel Marshall

Gen. John J. Pershing, in Baltimore today to be best man at the marriage of Col. George Marshall and Mrs. Catherine T. Brown, was ten minutes late in keeping his appointment with the bridegroom.

He was not late for the wedding, however.

Arriving at the Hotel Belvedere in his own car, accompanied only by his chauffeur, "Black Jack," went at once to Colonel Marshall's suite.

Colonel Marshall and Mrs. Brown are to be married later this afternoon in the chapel of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church. The Rev. Harry Stansbury Weyrich will officiate. Mrs. Brown is the widow of Clifton S. Brown, the Baltimore lawyer who was shot and killed in June, 1928, in the Calvert Building by a client, Louis Berman.

Pershing Luncheon Guest

The wedding was preceded by a luncheon at the home of Doctor and Mrs. William Gardner, in Calvert street, which General Pershing attended.

Colonel Marshall was for five years the general's aide de camp. He is now stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, for which post he and his bride will leave late today.

Mrs. Brown was to be given in marriage by her son, Clifton S. Brown, Jr.

Out-of-town guests here for the ceremony included Mrs. Aline Tupper Wilkes, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Metcalf, of New York; Doctor and Mrs. John Sayer, of Pittsburgh; Colonel and Mrs. Harry C. Cootes, of Fort Meyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund P. Coles, of Charlotte, N. C.
